

THE POSITIVITY WHEEL

The Positivity Wheel is a self-evaluation tool that helps you realize where your strengths and weaknesses are when it comes to positivity. Don't worry about your scores—we are all works in progress. Completing the wheel exercise is easy. After you go through it once, you'll be a pro. And if you become discouraged because there is still progress to be made, always remember we are looking for progress, not perfection.

The wheel exercise begins with a set of questions. After you read a question, simply rate yourself on the following scale: Poor (1-3), Fair (4-5), Good (6-7), Prosperous (8-10). Each wheel diagram contains a set of spokes, similar to the spokes on a bicycle wheel.

After you answer each wheel exercise question, chart your answer on the wheel. Find the spoke that matches the label of the question. Then, simply place a dot on the spoke next to the number that corresponds with your answer. After scoring yourself on every spoke, connect the dots to create a circle. Note that the higher a number is, the closer it is to the outer section of the wheel, while lower scores are more toward the middle. Now, at the end of each spoke, list the names or titles of people or organizations that provide you with this type of support. It's okay to list the same person, title, or organization in more than one spoke.

The Positivity Wheel

Chart your responses on The Positivity Wheel. Start at the top: are you Poor, Prosperous, or somewhere in between when it comes to embracing Positive Psychology? Put a dot on the spoke next to the number that corresponds with your answer. Now, continue going around the wheel and after scoring yourself on every spoke, connect the dots to create a circle.

We all can use a little more positivity in our lives. Consider revisiting this exercise monthly or quarterly to continue to keep increasing your positivity. Date your wheel and file it for later reference!

• As you look at the biggest dents in your wheel, notice which areas you scored yourself the lowest. Why do you think this is so?

• How might working on these areas improve your personal life? Professional life? Financial life?

• What three action steps can you take to improve in each of these three areas?
